

Ainsley Holeman

I'm a junior at Ronald Reagan High School on the Varsity Dance Team. I started dancing at Joanne Neal's Dance Studio at age 3. I was a part of a pre professional ballet company for many years and I currently dance at Heather Stollles School of Dance. I've attended the Annual Regional Dance of America Convention, and competed in several competitions. I started teaching classes at Cynergy in the Spring Semester, and love to share my passion of the art of dance with everyone.
